The Tea Spot to Showcase Its OEM Capabilities for Organic and CBD Tea at Natural Products Expo West 2019

Sky & Wyatt and The Tea Spot Will Share an Exhibit Booth to Highlight Their OEM Partnership to Produce CBD Hemp Teas with Organic Herbs

BOULDER, Colo. (March 4, 2019) – The Tea Spot is exhibiting at Natural Products Expo West in booth No. 955, March 6-9 at the Anaheim Convention Center in Anaheim, Calif., to showcase its innovative tea products, wares and services, as well as its OEM and private label capabilities to support organic-focused brands and companies exploring tea product and CBD tea opportunities. Expo West is the world's largest natural, organic and healthy products event. The Tea Spot works to advance healthier living through the everyday enjoyment of whole leaf tea.

To demonstrate its overall OEM and private label capabilities, The Tea Spot will share an Expo West booth with Sky & Wyatt. Sky & Wyatt recently partnered with The Tea Spot to help launch its line of Colorado-grown CBD hemp teas, which are blended with organic, all-natural herbs. The Tea Spot handles sourcing, blending and manufacturing of the Sky & Wyatt teas. CBD, or cannabidiol, is the non-psychoactive counterpart found in the cannabis plant. CBD product offerings are gaining popularity in the health and wellness marketplace, as the therapeutic health benefits of CBD consumption become more prevalent and widely-accepted.

“With the help of The Tea Spot, we have brought to market one of the first hemp-based herbal teas in the CBD category with by far the finest ingredients and consumer experience of any option out there today,” said James Michaelis, vice president of operations at Sky & Wyatt. “The Tea Spot has played an instrumental role in the quality of our product, and we’re looking forward to presenting our line of teas at Expo West while sharing about our experience working with The Tea Spot.”

In addition to offering hemp CBD tea co-packing capabilities – as in the case of Sky & Wyatt – The Tea Spot offers new OEM and private label support for brands that would like to offer their own tea line or tea wares. The Tea Spot’s services include raw material sourcing, R&D skills, production, packaging and supply chain management. The company also offers tea sachet manufacturing capabilities, as well as individually-wrapped pyramid tea bags for foodservice.

Maria Uspenski, founder and CEO of The Tea Spot and author of Cancer Hates Tea, said, “As an organically-certified manufacturing facility – and the only tea company with industrial, pyramid tea bag manufacturing capabilities in Colorado – The Tea Spot has positioned itself to be at the forefront of partnership opportunities for brands that are looking to develop their own private label organic teas, including CBD teas. By expanding our offerings beyond the traditional tea packaging options and incorporating customizable solutions for partners – such as branded tags, overwrap packaging and biodegradable sachet materials – we set up our partners for long-term success.”

ABOUT SKY & WYATT

After learning about the countless applications and benefits of the hemp plant, Jacob Sky and Andrew Wyatt set out on a mission to promote the ethical and environmental benefits of one of humanity's oldest cultivated crops. Committed to enriching the lives of their community with all natural and delicious CBD and hemp products, Sky & Wyatt CBD launched their line of herbal teas in 2018. Sky & Wyatt herbal teas are made from Colorado-grown hemp and blended with organic, all-natural herbs sourced and co-packed by The Tea Spot in Boulder, Colo. No extraction process and no solvents used means Sky & Wyatt teas are the most natural and authentic way to get your daily-dose of full-spectrum cannabinoids. Sky & Wyatt is committed to a vision of the world where hemp is recognized for its incredible therapeutic and even industrial properties – and that starts with delivering the best tasting CBD tea possible.
